

Charles E. Pariseau, D.C.C. (Charlie)

- Master of Christian Counseling, Andersonville Theological Seminary [2006]
- Doctor of Christian Counseling, Andersonville Theological Seminary [2008]
- District Court Commissioner: District Court of Maryland; 32 years service
- Former computer science instructor for Garrett College
- Computer consultant

Charlie was born in Baltimore, Maryland to Roger G. Pariseau and Edith M. Pariseau and moved to Oakland, Maryland in 1976. Charlie worked for the Board of Education for Garrett County for 21 years as well as the District Court of Maryland as a District Court commissioner. Now serving as the managing commissioner for Garrett and Allegany Counties, Charlie has been with the District Court for 32 years.

Charlie is married to Debra (Debbie) L. Pariseau and is the father of Jennifer L. Pariseau, Salisbury, MD, Stephen M. Pariseau, Baltimore, MD, Michael J. Pariseau, Salisbury, MD, Tiffany L. Pariseau, at home, Emily E. Pariseau, at home, and William L. Pariseau, at home. He is step-dad to Steven L. Allison and Stacy L. Gaither.

Charlie has extensive experience in dealing with people who experience the tribulations of life. For three decades he has worked with persons in his office who have experienced a traumatic life event or who are in trouble with the law. His interests include Biblical archeology [especially the Dead Sea Scrolls], Bible study, Hebrew, Greek, and Latin studies, photography, technology, and bird watching.

Charlie graduated from Andersonville Theological Seminary, Camilla, GA, summa cum laude, with a Master's degree in Christian Counseling [2006] and completed his doctorate in Christian Counseling in March, 2008 magna cum laude from Andersonville Theological Seminary. Charlie is now engaged in eight semesters of Greek and Hebrew studies as well as continuing education in various disciplines including information technology and Biblical studies.